Around the Square

Oh, ho! What's this? Kenneth Kearney's car became "involved" with the ditch in front of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter House and was left stranded there Tuesday night. Mr. Kearney, incidentally, is the deputy district attorney of Inyo County. The former Sierra Madrean insists he wasn't behind the wheel at the time.

Sierra Madreans might well keep their eyes on Mickey McKinley and Ted Martin, the two boys who won their Eagle Scout awards Monday night. It is an established fact that from the ranks of Eagle Scouts come many of this nation's outstanding citizens and leaders. Well done, boys.

HISTORICAL - FOOTNOTE - DEPARTMENT: Now that the movie has left Sierra Madre, we'll make a candid observation. "The Steel Helmet" is the first propaganda—oops, excuse us, we mean "informational"—film made to infuriate Americans for the Korean War. As a propaganda effort, it plays up the usual atrocities in general, serves its purpose. But, in our opinion, a theater-goer would have to be only 6 or 7 years of age not to remember that the very same actor who portrays a heroic Japanese-American soldier in this picture used to depict "maniacal Japanese suicide pilots" during World War II years.

As a Pacific-area veteran of the last war, we're confused. Suppose it's just another ironical "sign of the times," huh?

Hate to think what could happen here if an emergency prompted every Sierra Madrean to use his telephone simultaneously. We couldn't even get a "dial tone" out of our three phones Tuesday morning shortly after 9. And that was only during the routine "good morning" chats.

Oh, well, some people say carrier pigeons travel pretty fast.

We're equipping the NEWS office with a crystal ball so we will be able to know what people think and really mean—not just what they say.

Nominating Group Named by Council

A nominating committee for the Sierra Madre Coordinating Council was appointed Tuesday night by President Mrs. P. R. Woodworth.

The committee will submit candidates to fill the council's offices during elections in May. Members of the nominating body are Gene Lunsford, Philip Mitchell, Mrs. Charles James, Harold Bartel, and Mrs. John Pascoe.

Success of Red Cross Drive 'Up to Citizens'

"The rest is up to Sierra Madreans." That was the statement this week of Red Cross Fund Chairman Carl Hansen as he announced that volunteer district captains and workers are canvassing local homes and businesses.

"The planning and mechanical aspects of the campaign are being completed," Mr. Hansen said. "Success or failure of the 1951 fund drive now depends on how the donations come in. The rest is up to Sierra Madreans."

The annual soliciting drive for Red Cross funds is now in its second week. Quota of the Sierra Madre Chapter is $6416.

Mr. Hansen urged residents to be prepared to make their contributions when workers come to their doors. This will

Car Crash Victims Said 'Improving'

Mrs. Sheila Colbert Mariotti and Mrs. Margaret LaLone were reported "much improved" Tuesday, following the highway crash Thursday that claimed the lives of Mrs. Jean Meeder and her unborn child.

Mrs. Colbert, 17-year-old wife of Sgt. Donald Colbert, died from injuries received in the wreck shortly after being rushed to Cottage Hospital in Santa Barbara. Her baby was delivered dead at the hospital.

The Three Sierra Madre women, wives of former National Guardsmen now on active Army duty at Camp Cooke, near Lompoc, were driving to camp to meet their husbands.

A large truck and trailer, out of control in a blinding rain storm, collided with the girls' sedan in what one highway patrol officer described as "the worst wreck I've ever seen."

Driver of the empty truck was Sherman Gentry, 62, of Compton, who said the truck went out of control during a sudden rain storm and struck the oncoming car "like a bat hitting a ball." The impact drove the sedan back 31 feet, knocking the motor back on top of the three local women.

Sgt. Earl LaLone said Tuesday that the x-rays of the two injured women have disclosed that internal injuries were not as critical as at first feared. He quoted the hospital doctors as saying both women were showing "much improvement."

Mrs. LaLone, 26, suffered fractures of both legs, a broken

SCHOOL PLANS MEETING ON CIVIL DEFENSE

Civil defense preparations at City School will be discussed at a meeting Monday morning and afternoon, March 12.

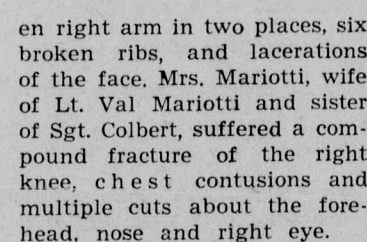

The all-day meeting will be broken down into five phases, beginning with a general session in the school cafeteria at 9 a. m.

According to School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt, subjects under consideration will include: identification tags for pupils; the psychological effects on children, teachers, and parents during a disaster; the procedure to be followed during a prolonged alert; and what effect an alert would have on classes.

From 10 to 10:30, a motion picture on the atom bomb will be shown. At 10:30, four separate groups will meet to discuss special phases of school civil defense.

In the afternoon, following lunch in the school cafeteria, final reports and evaluation will be presented at a general session.

Mr. Skutt said Sierra Madreans are invited to attend the meetings.

en right arm in two places, six broken ribs, and lacerations of the face. Mrs. Mariotti, wife of Lt. Val Mariotti and sister of Sgt. Colbert, suffered a compound fracture of the right knee, chest contusions and multiple cuts about the forehead, nose and right eye.

Officers spent more than an hour freeing Mrs. LaLone and Mrs. Mariotti from the wrecked car. Mrs. Colbert was removed almost immediately.

Rosary for Mrs. Colbert and her infant son, Donald Joseph Jr., was recited at Grant Chapel Monday night, and Requiem Mass was sung Tuesday morning at St. Rita's Church.

Mrs. Colbert, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meeder, 329 W. Highland, was a native of Chicago, Ill. Besides her parents and husband, she is survived by...

COLDS, FLU HIT THIRD OF PUPILS

Approximately one third of the pupils at City School were absent Monday as cold and flu bugs laid a heavy hand on Sierra Madre boys and girls.

Mrs. Hortense Wells, school nurse, said more than 200 students were out of school Monday. Enrollment at City School is 662.

And in one class which has a normal enrollment of 25, only nine pupils were present.

At the two parochial schools, illness has not hit quite so hard. St. Rita's School reported 30 pupils absent Monday out of an enrollment of 200. Ascension Parish Day School officials said only 14 were absent Monday. The Episcopal school has an enrollment of 113 students.

Fr. Harley G. Smith Jr. said the peak in absences from flu and colds at Ascension Day School ended last week.

Muir Students Win Top Campus Posts

Two Sierra Madre John Muir College students have been elected presidents of two of Muir's most important campus organizations.

Stewart Macaulay, last semester's Associated Student Body president, is the new Order of Distinguished Service (ODS) president. Being selected for membership in this organization is the highest honor that can be given any Muir student.

Macaulay was elected to membership last Spring at the time he served as student director of athletic publicity. He lives at 51 Canon Drive.

The other Sierra Madrean, Margot Woodworth, heads the most popular women's organization on the campus, the Womens' Athletic Association.

This group boasts a membership of 180 coeds who sponsor a variety of athletic after-school activities. Biggest event on their spring agenda is participation in the Womens' Telegraphic Intercollegiate Archery Tournament. Mrs. Shirley Anderson, physical education instructor, is WAA adviser.

Miss Woodworth lives at 522 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Churches to Sponsor Showing Of 'Pilgrim's Progress' Friday

Four Sierra Madre churches will come together tomorrow evening, March 9, to sponsor the showing of a world-famous film at the City School auditorium.

The world's second best seller, "Pilgrim's Progress," has now been made into an animated, color film and will be presented at 7:30 Friday night. Sponsoring the showing will be Bethany, Congregational, First Baptist, and Trinity Presbyterian Churches.

According to the Rev. Dewey Mulholland, assistant pastor at Bethany, there is no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be taken.

John Bunyan, a Baptist minister imprisoned for preaching, wrote this famous allegory 300 years ago. It consistently has been rated as a best seller. The film portrays the story of a Christian as he travels through the "Slough of Despondency" to cross where he loses his heavy load. From there to the "Celestial City," his path is full of danger and subtle temptations.

A full-length feature, "Pilgrim's Progress" was more than four years in the making and represents 100,000 drawings.

All Sierra Madreans are invited to see this portrayal, Mr. Mulholland said.

Chamber Acts On 'Death Corners' Here

Sierra Madre's Chamber of Commerce voted Monday night to write the State Division of Highways regarding the two "death corners" on Foothill boulevard.

The Chamber will ask that stop lights be installed at the intersections of Baldwin and Foothill and Michillinda and Foothill.

Private citizens of Sierra Madre have been requesting the stop signs for one of these corners—Baldwin avenue—since before Christmas when a local woman was killed in an accident there.

The Chamber's action marks the first time an organized public body has petitioned the state to end the hazards.

Spencer Tells Progress by City 'Wardens'

Frank Spencer, chief block warden of the Sierra Madre Civil Defense Council, announces that much progress is being made in the city's warden system.

He reports that 10 district wardens have been calling special meetings to further organize their districts.

"Already some of the block wardens have started their house visits to familiarize local families in their roles in civilian defense," Mr. Spencer said.

The warden points out the safest place in each house and urges families to conduct discussions on the material in the pamphlet, "Survival Under Atomic Attack."

Another responsibility of the warden, Mr. Spencer pointed out, is to obtain data on the parent's place of business, the ages and schools attended by each child in the family, and the names of beridden members of the household.

District captains and block wardens also are busy with the job of selecting additional wardens and deputy wardens, he stated.

PE 'Shelves' Request for Bus 'Loop'

Expansion of the bus route in Sierra Madre has been shelved—for the present, at least—by Pacific Electric Railway Company.

R. O. Christianson, representative of the traffic managing department of PE, was in town Tuesday with his staff and surveyed the additional bus "loop" proposed by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Christianson said that at present there is not enough time lag at the end of Sierra Madre's regular line to permit any additional stops. Sierra Madre busses must coincide with the busses from the Glendora-Monrovia PE Line, he said.

Some hope was held out for Sierra Madreans, however, since the Glendora-Monrovia line will be rescheduled sometime during the next few months.

PE is expected to reconsider the Chamber's plan at that time, Al H. Wetherbee, Chamber president, said.

The local Chamber had proposed that the bus route be extended approximately 3 miles to go north on Baldwin to Grandview, east to Santa Anita Drive, south to Sierra Madre boulevard, back to the station and out of town.

A request from Mrs. Ruth Metzger to have busses in the Canyon area was refused by the Railway Company because of the small width of the streets.

VINE QUEEN CANDIDATES AWAIT CAMERA SESSION

More than a dozen candidates—all girls from the Sierra Madre area—this week were signed up for the 1951 Wistaria Vine Queen contest. The girls will be photographed under the vine at 201 W. Carter, at 10 a. m. next Sunday, March 11.

Mrs. Virginia Pratt, secretary of the Wistaria Vine Association, announced that other girls wishing to enter may do so by appearing at the vine at that time.

The vine's official photographer, Hank Hoag of Pasadena, will be on hand to snap pictures of all candidates for submission to the panel of judges who will select the five finalists. From these finalists, a queen will be chosen after the vine officially opens to the public late this month.

BIG LEAGUE SCOUTS MAY HELP TEACH BALL SKILLS

Plans are being made for a baseball school in Sierra Madre. The school, which will train Sierra Madre youths in specialized baseball skills, is scheduled to begin "in the near future." Exact dates had not yet been decided yesterday.

Prospective local instructors for the school are Ralph Valencia, Bill Evans, and Larry Shepherd—each of whom has had extensive professional and semi-professional baseball experience.

If the response warrants it, baseball scouts from the Brooklyn Dodgers, New York Giant, and St. Louis Cardinal chains have offered their services, according to Mr. Shepherd.

He said "Rosey" Gilhouse of Brooklyn, Ed Ransom of the Giants, and Jim Ross of the Cards, have expressed interest in a baseball school here. All the scouts are members of the Southern California Association.

In case Sierra Madre response is not sufficient, however, an offer to nearby Arcadia youngsters is in prospect, Mr. Shepherd said. The school probably will run for four consecutive Saturday afternoons at the city ball park. Athletic equipment will be furnished by the local VFW Post.

McKINLEY, MARTIN WIN COVETED 'EAGLE' AWARDS

Two Sierra Madre youths have won the highest award possible in Boy Scouting—the coveted Eagle Scout Badge.

The two 14-year-old boys, Robert (Mickey) McKinley of Sea Scout Ship 1 and Ted Martin of Scout Troop 3, were presented the badges at Monday night's Court of Honor at City School.

Both Scouts earned the badge in near-record time—just two years.

Among the many requirements for the Eagle Scout award, boys must have gone through all the regular Scout ranks and have earned at least 21 merit badges, honors given in recognition of special Scouting skills.

Mickey earned the required 21 badges, and Ted has won 27. Both boys agree that they enjoyed earning the lifesaving and swimming badges most.

Mickey, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Gardner, 106 W. Laurel, Arcadia, is a freshman at Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School and a member of the school track team.

His hobby is "tinkering" with mechanical objects, and he hopes someday to become a mechanical engineer. Mickey's mother testifies that "he has been living with the scout book in his hands" during the past two years.

Mickey started his Scouting career in Den 1, Pack 1 of the Sierra Madre Cub Scouts, an organization in which he was active for three years before becoming a Boy Scout in Troop 1. He held the ranks of patrol leader and senior patrol leader during his Boy Scout days. At present, he is a Sea Scout Apprentice.

New First Aid Class to Start March 28

A second first aid class will begin Wednesday, March 28. Harry Lange, first aid chairman of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter, announced this week.

"This class will be conducted on Wednesday afternoons, beginning at 1:30," Mr. Lange said. "It is designed particularly for Sierra Madre women."

Persons wishing to sign up for the course are asked to contact Mrs. Florence Peterson, ARC executive secretary, at the local Chapter House, 41 South Baldwin.

Fifty residents currently are attending sessions of the first aid class organized several weeks ago. It meets Wednesday evenings.

PARKING METER PLAN STUDIED BY CHAMBER

Parking meters for Sierra Madre are being considered by the Chamber of Commerce.

The parking committee of the Chamber is making a survey of parking conditions in the business district and will make recommendations to the Chamber Board of Directors and to the City Council.

Members of the committee—Sam Perloff, Francis Danielson, Frank Spencer, and Joe Scalzo—report that a parking meter company has been asked to submit its prices for the meters and approximately how many should be installed in a shopping center of Sierra Madre's size.

Agriculturist To Address Garden Club

Capt. E. G. Everett, program chairman of the Garden Club, announces an excellent program for the meeting of next Monday night.

Merrill Thompson, head of agriculture at the Mark Keppel high school in Alhambra, will give an illustrated talk. He will discuss roses and small gardens, concentrating on the light and air advantages of the rose garden.

Professor Thompson will be welcomed by garden lovers, having given another lecture before the club last year.

The club meets at the Woman's Clubhouse for dinner at 6:30. Captain Everett points out that the club membership is "steadily increasing" with many new members coming from the Hastings Ranch. People in the Lower Hastings hear about the Garden Club's activities through the NEWS which is distributed weekly to every home.

Free Chest X-Rays Offered Here Again

Sierra Madreans will have another chance for their free chest x-rays when the County Health Department sets up a mobile machine in front of the Bank of Sierra Madre Thursday and Friday, March 15 and 16.

No appointment is necessary, time involved is less than a minute, and there is no charge to the individual for the service, according to Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, county health officer. All residents over 15 years of age are urged to obtain an x-ray, but minors must have the written consent of their parents.

Dr. Gilbert emphasized in his announcement that although many Sierra Madreans received chest x-rays during the tuberculosis survey here last November, private physicians and public health officials recommend x-rays for all citizens at least annually.

Findings in the x-ray films can include—in addition to tuberculosis—chest tumors, unusual heart conditions, and other diseases peculiar to the chest cavity, the doctor advised.

PERMITS TOTAL $230,544 IN 'BUSY BUILDING MONTH'

Sierra Madreans put in an unusually busy building month February, taking out building permits totaling nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Permits issued at City Building Inspector Bill Lees' office totaled $230,544.50 last month, bringing the year's total so far to $324,440.50. During February of 1950, $148,450 in building permits were issued—$82,094.50 less than February of this year.

Mr. Lees pointed out, however, that the City School District was responsible for a good part of the increase. The district was issued a permit for $71,515 to build the four new classrooms.

Permits for more than $500

L. L. Lachter, to build a house at 431 N. Sunnyside, a permit for $8000; C. L. McWade, to add a room to the dwelling at 153 Wilson, a permit for $700; Mrs. Hugh Pangborn, to build an accessory building and alterations at 700 W. Fairview, permit for $800; Lawrence

No One Claims 'Still' Found Buried Here

Existence of a mysterious underground "still" was literally unearthed recently—right in the heart of Sierra Madre's business district.

The still—about the size of a small bathtub—was discovered during excavating operations by Riehley of California in cutting into the sewer line on Sierra Madre boulevard. It was buried approximately 6 feet beneath the sidewalk.

Usually-reliable Sierra Madre historians were unable to shed any light on the "mystery of the still" which has remained dark for no-one-knows-how-many years.

But C. W. Jones, president of the local Historical Society, cautiously ventured that it might have been, some sort of "watering trough" installed when the public school was located there.

Predominant opinion, however, was that the still really was a still and probably dates back to early prohibition days when an admission to many events in Sierra Madre was a pound of raisins and some sugar.

Final disposition of the still was not known. Another mystery?

(Editor's note: This is the way the story was to run before Assistant Street Superintendent Vernon Udell exploded the yarn as a hoax. Vern said the "still" was an old gas tank, abandoned from the days when Milton Steinberger and Carl Hansen operated garages there.)

Race Track to Be Site of Summer Fair

As the thud of race horses' hooves dies away Saturday, famed Santa Anita Park will begin looking ahead to its special summer program this year. Beginning June 30 and continuing through Sept. 9, the World Transportation Fair will be conducted at the race track. The fair, featuring exhibits showing the evolution of the transportation industry in the United States, will be the largest event of its kind to be held in the nation this year.

The Transportation exhibits will depict four major classifications: aviation, automotive, railroad, and marine industries. Among the special events slated during the fair are the final state competition of the California Motor Truck Association's annual "rodeo" on Aug. 11 and 12. An attendance of 3,000,000 persons is expected at the fair during the 72-day run.

British Still Have Sense of Humor

Proof of the Britisher's perennial sense of humor—even in the face of hardship—was evident last week on the front page of an English newspaper. When Frederick Hawkins, NEWS' pressman, received his copy of the Birmingham (England) Mail, his attention was attracted to a page-one picture showing a butcher taking inventory of his stock. Across his store window is the sign, "Closed for Stocktaking." The caption under the picture reads:

"Pencil and paper were hardly necessary for this Dudley butcher to do his 'stocktaking.' He is contemplating one chop, a tin of corned beef, and a can opener—a reminder that next week's meat ration will be of a similar depleted appearance."

CLIPPER CLUB MEETS MONDAY

Clipper Club of the Trinity Presbyterian Church will meet Monday, March 12, 7 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Noshier, 265 N. Mountain Trail.

Hosts for the dinner meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. George Gillispie and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crowley. A travel film will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tretheway.

Members of the Clipper Club recently presented the church with a metal cross and Bible for the front of the church sanctuary.

FIRE FLAMES

Fire continues to take its toll and to destroy. Over the nation many fires occurred during the past months, in factories and plants where men at work were unable to stop them. There must be some reason for this.

First aid appliances handy would stop lots of these fires. This same applies to home fires. A flaming waste basket should not get beyond control. It should never be placed where flames may reach another inflammable furnishing. If seen ablaze, it is a simple matter to snuff it out by placing a cover over it—if it cannot be removed without danger.

Fires get started from such unexpected sources. Let's keep in mind that there is always danger. Keep articles that take fire clear of heat.

The common garden hose has done wonders right here in Sierra Madre and has aided the Fire Department in retaining the low fire loss for which we are noted. Many good stops are attributed to the immediate use of the garden hose stream.

It's that first start that is easy to extinguish. Once a fire reaches the large stage—we expect trouble. Call us early and we'll get there as soon as possible. If we return without having to put out a large fire, we are all benefited.

Said one fire fighter to another, "You don't look so good, old man. What's the trouble?"

"I got domestic trouble." "But thought you always said your wife was a pearl," asked the man.

"Yeah, that she is. It's the mother of pearl that makes the trouble."

Another one goes the rounds like this:

At 6 o'clock she laid out his dinner suit, at 7 she laid out his evening clothes, at 11 o'clock she laid out his pajamas, and at 3 o'clock he came home and she laid him out.

Which sums us to this: Matrimony puts an end to more petting in the park than all the police put together.

When we read in fire magazines and reports of the terrific fire loss throughout the nation, we can well be proud of our reputation and record in Sierra Madre. We are located in a region where fires can start much easier than in many other localities, and yet last year we were only called to answer fourteen fire calls, most of which were of little consequence.

This is simply because of the fire consciousness of the residents. At least a large part of the credit for this "fire mindedness" must go to the fire fighters, who work diligently to avoid fires, as well as prepare to fight them.

Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

A gospel team from the Highschool Bible Club of Los Angeles, a group sponsored by the Youth for Christ movement, will have a part in the program, Mr. Mulholland said.

Louis Rhoden, 18-year-old high school student will deliver the evening message. Captain of the Ventura High School football team, Rhoden has addressed quite a few youth and adult groups throughout the Southland.

Song Stylist Marion Prentice will present several selections. The evening service begins at 7:30.

New Rate Plan Adds 92,500 Toll-Free Telephones

Under the new telephone rate plan, just made effective, subscribers formerly receiving local service through the "Custer" Central Office in Sierra Madre can now call over 96,000 toll-free telephones, as against approximately 3,500 previously.

All calls from the "Custer" office can now be made without toll charges to the following exchanges: "Douglas" (Arcadia); "Elliott" (Monrovia); "Sycamore" (Pasadena); and Mt. Wilson.

In addition to this free-calling service former local service subscribers will, under the new plan, also enjoy the advantage of the message unit rate for calls to other exchanges in the Los Angeles Metropolitan Area which means, for example, that calls formerly costing 20 cents will now cost only 14 cents.

The larger free-calling area plan together with the lower message unit rate will result in a saving of approximately $20,000 a year for "Custer" Exchange subscribers.

These new benefits demonstrate your telephone company's policy to render the best possible service for the lowest possible cost.

Mrs. Sophia Misfeldt Osik, 231 E. Montecito, died Sunday, March 4, at the age of 93.

A native of St. Louis, Missouri, Mrs. Osik had been a resident of Sierra Madre for nine years. She was a member of the Christian Science Church.

Mrs. Osik is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cecil Ellis of Los Angeles and Mrs. Edith Rohkam of Beverly Hills, a son, Douglas Osik of West Salem, Ohio, and a grandson, William Rohkam of Beverly Hills.

Flutist, Son of Local Residents

A story of the achievements, hobbies and experiences of Telejo C. Freeman appeared recently in the San Diego news columns which is of more than usual interest in Sierra Madre. Mr. Freeman, first flutist with the San Diego Philharmonic Orchestra is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Freeman of 387 E. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Although Mr. Freeman plays a Verne Q. Powell flute he has made a bass flute in his own workshop at his home in Los Angeles. The flute, made of brass has been used at the M-G-M, Fox and other studios. Among composers who have written for Mr. Freeman's bass flute are Arthur Lange, David Raxen, Andre Preven and Henschel Gilbert.

Mr. Freeman is a pupil of Henri De Busscher and considers Dr. Leslie Hodge of the San Diego Philharmonic an excellent conductor and is happy to be playing under his baton.

Colleges Not Responsible for Vacation Parties

With several hundred Sierra Madreans attending junior colleges in Pasadena, both Pasadena City College and John Muir College issued statements to parents this week.

The school authorities advised parents that student parties during the coming Easter vacation, March 18 to 25, will not be supervised by the colleges.

A statement from Dr. Catherine J. Robbins, acting assistant principal of PCC, explains the colleges' stand: "Parents of JC students are reminded that, in accordance with the practice of preceding years, the colleges assume no responsibility for the chaperonage or supervision of house parties of students during the vacation periods or on weekends."

Services Held for William J. Miller

Funeral services were conducted at Grant Chapel for William John Miller, 67 W. Highland, who passed away Wednesday, Feb. 28.

He is survived by his wife, Catherine, a son, Al W. Miller, three grandchildren, Howard Wallace Miller, Al W. Miller Jr., and Caroline Lee Miller, and one great Grandson, Payton Miller.

Stephenson Ends Recruit Training

Robert S. Stephenson, seaman recruit, USN, of 241 Ramona, has completed recruit training at the San Diego Naval Training Center and will be assigned to a fleet unit or to one of the Navy's schools for specialized training.

At "boot camp," Recruit Stephenson underwent intensive drill in signaling, navigation, basic ordnance, and seamanship.

MOTHER FROM IOWA

Mrs. W. J. Thompson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is visiting her son and family, the Merritt J. Thompsons of 430 Sturtevant Drive.

POLICE BLOTTER

A delirious man causes alarm in the neighborhood. The man living alone had contracted double pneumonia and walked from the house. He was soon hospitalized after the arrival of police.

BB guns continue to be a source of headache to the police, and much worse, a menace to the community. Stray pellets have broken windows, struck cars and children report having been hit by them. Parents should realize that a highly populated area is not an ideal place for young boys or girls to be shooting any type of gun.

Headlines reveal many instances of eyes that have been lost or defected. Why buy an air rifle for a child, anyway?

And now, your fence is in danger. Paul Bird, before he 'blew the coop' to Arcadia, found a fence that had been stolen from a resident in Sierra Madre. It wasn't for a workman to change his trousers at the side of the car. And he was told so.

Hi! Embree recovered the thermometer that was taken from the City Pumping Plant some time ago. 'Twas only a thermometer, but an expensive one, and it was found at the home of a small boy.

Smoke pouring forth from a chimney arouses anxiety, and the police trace it.

He drove his car into the ditch and then called the police to "do something good for a change." He asked that they pull him out. He was not only pulled out, but "pulled in."

The playboys of manhood age continue to annoy the neighbors with their childish midnight antics by shooting fireworks and other prohibitive shooting. To annoy sick and elderly folks does not seem to interfere with their pranks.

She told him to trim her "Cecil Brunner" along the fence—but she was disappointed to find there was little of it left. No case.

The covering of the new street, did not go without the expected "Spin-around" of a car. No sooner had the vigilant cop left the scene to attend to other duty, when the spin, spun. The driver was soon located and the proper procedure taken. Two drunks in the gutter. So they were. Death message.

A hot suspect "blew" never to return. He was not satisfied to curse through the walls when his ex-wife refused him admittance, he thought he had to pound down the house. The cops got 'im.

'I AIN'T DEAD YET'

Mrs. Barbara Andrews, 93-year-old aunt of Mrs. Ione E. Ward, publisher of the NEWS, passed away recently. Just a few days before she died, Mrs. Andrews, former commissioner of Cook County, Wyoming, revised this poem, "I Ain't Dead Yet," and directed that it be sent her friends and relatives after she was gone. Mrs. Ward received her copy this week. Here it is:

I AIN'T DEAD YET

My hair is white and I'm almost blind,
The days of my youth are far behind;
My neck's so stiff, can't turn my head,
Can't hear half what's being said.
My legs are wobbly, can hardly walk,
But glory be I sure can talk;
And this is the message I want you to get:
I'm still a kickin' and I ain't dead yet.

My joints are stiff, won't move in their sockets,
And many a dime is left in my pocket;
So maybe you think I'm a total wreck,
To tell you the truth, I look like heck.
But still I have just lots of fun
And my heart with joy is over-run.

I've a lot of friends so kind and sweet
And many more I seldom meet.
Oh, this is a wonderful world of ours,
Shade and sunshine and beautiful flowers;
You just take it from me, you bet,
I'm glad I'm living and I ain't dead yet.

I've corns on my feet and growing nails,
And do they hurt, here language fails;
To tell all my troubles it would take too long,
If I tried to tell you, you would give me the gong.
I go to church and Sunday school, too, by radio,
For I love that story which is ever new.

Now when I reach the end of my row
I hope to my heavenly home I'll go,
Then when I leave this home of clay,
If you listen closely, I'm apt to say:
"Well, folks, I have left you, but don't forget,
I've just passed on, but I ain't dead yet."

Your time is not as valuable as life.

Local Woman Edits PCC's 'Pipes of Pan'

Writing is the "very first ambition I can remember," says Mrs. Roberta C. Corson, recently-appointed editor of Pasadena City College's 1951 edition of Pipes of Pan, annual anthology of college literary work.

A resident of 584 Brookside Lane, Mrs. Corson is the mother of a 7-year-old son, for whom she writes children's verse. Her poetry has twice been selected for publication in the National Anthology of College Verse, and she is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary collegiate English fraternity.

"I've always seemed to be interested in putting ideas down on paper," the talented free-verse specialist recalls, adding that she hopes eventually to publish a book of poetry. Mrs. Corson also writes "poetical prose," essays in which she deals with human emotions and thoughts.

Mrs. Corson, a creative writing student for three semesters, is a graduate of Burbank High School and plans to continue at PCC. The publication she is editing has gone to press and will appear late this spring. It will contain several examples of her work. Mrs. Corson's husband is Kenneth G. Corson.

Pipes of Pan adviser is Miss Jessie K. Paxton, creative writing instructor. John Chambers serves as associate editor.

Letter to the Editor

EDITOR, Sierra Madre NEWS.

After reading the letter of James R. Pratley (NEWS of Jan. 25), elling of his interest in Sierra Madre's P. E. Station, I am hoping your readers will be interested in another, and entirely different story of the effect of your P. E. Station on another resident of Sierra Madre.

About six months ago, I decided that five years of city life in Los Angeles was enough for the rest of my life-time, and that I would move to one of the outlying towns within commuting distance of my employment in L. A.

I spent all of my spare time for the next month, covering all of the outlying areas of L. A. County, missing none of the towns, and eventually decided that Sierra Madre was just the spot I wanted.

My decision to move to Sierra Madre was influenced by just one thing—I loved the tree-shaded little P. E. Station from the first moment I saw it! Somehow, nestled at the foot of the mountains as it is, it is reminiscent of scenes in the Swiss Alps, and at other times I am reminded of our early New England villages, and it seems to signify something secure and simple, of those earlier days in American history when our ancestors knew the meaning of courage and religion, and life was far less complex than in this modern time.

Because of all this—like Mr. Pratley—I too hope "the city fathers will see fit to preserve the station and its grounds." (Name withheld)

BE WISE—AND, BE THRIFTY

I think the old adage "willful waste makes woeful want" applies to every gardener who does not have a COMPOST PILE. This is especially true in sections of the country where trees become dormant and there is an abundance of dead leaves but, even here in Southern California where we have no wholly dormant season, there is an abundance of dead leaves in the fall and, with the exception of the leaves from the Eucalyptus and the Camphor trees, they can all be conserved and given back to the good earth to supply the humus which it requires. The best method for making a compost pile is to dig a shallow pit in which to accumulate your compost. And to hasten decomposition, throw a pair or two of SULFOTONE into it occasionally.

KEEP YOUR COMPOST CLEAN

True, a compost pile is a natural breeding place for insect life and fungus, but if you will disinfect it once or twice through the season, you will keep it clean and wholesome. Use a rake and spread the compost evenly so that the diluted disinfectant can penetrate. Then mix the liquid in any pail or sprinkling can, using 1 tablespoon to a gallon of water, and pour it over the compost pile. You will find you do not need to do this very often. Your compost pile will accept and assimilate almost everything in the world that goes to decay. Dead leaves, grass cuttings, even citrus fruit peelings and sometimes the garbage go into the compost pile with good results. And good, clean, homemade compost is humus which your soil wants and needs.

LET'S KEEP THOSE PETS AWAY

A few days ago I was looking at a beautiful new lawn and I regretted to notice that its smooth green surface was marred at the edges by dead, brown, ragged-looking patches—caused by the dogs. We all love our pets but dog nuisance can be almost as disastrous as insect injury, especially on your lawn and on shrubbery around the borders of your premises. Here is a formula you can use which will be highly effective:

Mix 2 teaspoonfuls of DE STRUXOL to 1 gallon of water, and throw into the mixture 2 tablespoonfuls of any kind of soap flakes.

The DESTRUXOL you buy is the old-fashioned, original product, a thin black liquid, that comes in a bottle as small as a one-ounce which you can buy for thirty-five cents. It is one of the strongest fumigant sprays on the market and dogs and cats don't like those fumes. The addition of the soap flakes serves as a spreader to hold the material on the shrubs and over the lawn. You will not do any injury with it and you only need to use it occasionally around the borders of the "besieged" premises to accomplish your purpose.

QUESTIONS FREELY ANSWERED

Your present garden problem may be a puzzling headache to you, but if you will take the time to outline it briefly in letter form, the author of this column will send you a personal answer containing helpful advice. Direct your letter to DOROTHY JONSON, "Your Garden Column," care of the NEWS.

Group Formed To Tally Questionnaire

The Coordinating Council Tuesday night appointed a recreation committee to tally and summarize results of the Recreation Questionnaire being distributed to most Sierra Madre organizations.

President Mrs. P. R. Woodworth distributed an additional 500 survey blanks to representatives of local clubs, schools, and churches at the meeting.

Through the survey, the Coordinating Council hopes to learn what Sierra Madreans think a model city recreation program for the future should include. Results of the questionnaire will be presented to the Recreation Commission and City Council.

The question blanks should have been returned and tallied by the end of the month, Mrs. Woodworth said.

Members of the recreation committee are Dr. Alan Burgess, L. T. McGinnis, and Mrs. G. Bouvier.

Raiders in Batting Slump, Beaten 5-1

Suffering their second consecutive setback, the Sierra Madre VFW Raiders were humbled Sunday afternoon by the Cal-Oaks semipro team, 5 to 1.

And for the second consecutive game, it was the Raiders' hitting—or lack of it—that spelled defeat. Four unearned Cal-Oaks runs in the second inning on two walks, an error, and two consecutive singles broke the Sierra Madre team's back.

"Doctor" Larry Shepherd, team manager, diagnosed the ailment as a hitting slump and said he probably will prescribe batting practice or a "major shakeup" in the lineup.

It was the first time the Raiders have been held to only four runs—their previous low being five.

"Mutt" Oaks was charged with Sunday's loss, although he pitched a nice game. Faster fielding would have held Cal-Oaks to five hits instead of their seven.

Losses to the flu bug and to school teams have weakened the Raider lineup, with Pitcher Stueve and Second-baseman Kiggins both benched by illness. Bob Emirhanian is lost to the VFW because of his playing with the Pasadena City College varsity; Bob Perry, promising 15-year-old, is playing with the Franklin High School.

Next Sunday, the Sierra Madreans will face another tough squad, the Los Angeles Yankees, reported to be the best colored team in Southern California.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
by RALPH (Val) VALENCIA

DOWN THE LANES
Due to previous agreements made between the San Gabriel Valley Classic League and the Arcadia Bowling Alleys, The Hot Shots took over last Thursday night and the 850 scratch league was out. Therefore, our local boys did not bowl. (For better or worse).

Art's Checks also made up of local pin busters, fared pretty well last Monday night, winning 3 points, they jumped two places and are now resting in 4th place in their league. Norman Dumas was the sparkplug for the above burst of speed. Norm had a 209 game for a 534 series.

ON THE FAIRWAYS
If anyone about town finds a golfing score card lying around with the names of A. Liscomb, F. Kinkle, Ed. Keating and J. Woods, I would appreciate it if he turns same in to me for addition of the scores.

Here is the rundown of Sierra Madre's local foursome:
1. Time 6:30 a. m.
2. Place, Brookside Golf Club.
3. Fairways, wet.
4. Greens covered with ice.
5. Putts and scores? (That's why I am searching for the score card). John Woods was filling in for Geo. Larson who has been absent for sometime due to an operation. But I understand George will be out shooting for birdies again soon. Or maybe shooting for a place in our local hole-in-one club.

WITH LINE AND SINKERS
Postmaster Ed Robertson and E. P. Cox journeyed to Lower California last week to try their hand at surf fishing. But, due to rain most of the time they were there, their catch consisted mainly of Mexican carp an influenza. Ed. Robertson is still in bed at this writing. Lobster being in season below the border, the above anglers brought back a few red shells filled with some mighty good eating.

ON THE DIAMOND
V-Ettes hit snags instead of baseballs, (first) the Baldwin Park game was postponed on account of rain, (next) Marston Blood has had to resign as coach of the V-Ettes due to a change in his working hours. Two prospective coaches are yet to be interviewed before next practice game with Baldwin Park which is scheduled for Mar. 13th.

Want ad: More players for V-Ettes girls' softball team, Call Mgr. Barbara Heasley, CU. 5-4739.

Under the slogan, "Meet old friends, make new ones," the picnic program will begin at 2 p. m., according to John D. Lewis, state society president.

DANNY MENENDEZ, Business Manager of the Hollywood Stars presents Jess Hill, new USC grid mentor, tickets to the Star-New York Yankee game at Gilmore Field on March 16. Hill, besides being a former Yankee, broke into professional baseball with the Stars, hitting a home run his first time at bat.

MISS LINEBAUGH, RESIDENT SINCE 1908, DIES

Margaret Wheeler Linebaugh, a resident of Sierra Madre since 1908, died Sunday, March 4. She had been ill off and on since 1934.

Miss Linebaugh, 224 San Gabriel Court, was the private secretary of Nathan W. Tarr for 33 years.

The pioneer Sierra Madrean is survived by a nephew, Joseph T. Linebaugh of Victoria, Texas, and three cousins, Judge Mack S. Linebaugh and Miss Eva Linebaugh, both of Guthrie, Kentucky, and Mrs. J. L. Babney of Binghamton, New York.

Funeral services for Miss Linebaugh were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Grant Chapel, the Rev. Roy Werkland of the Christian Church of Monrovia officiating. Miss Linebaugh was a member of that church. Interment will be in the family plot in San Antonio, Texas.

Mae West To Star in 'Diamond Lil'

Mae West, who exploited the expression "Come up and see me sometime," will bring the show in which the quip originated to the Biltmore Theatre, Los Angeles beginning Monday, March 5.

"Diamond Lil" is the show. It is the best known and most successful work of Miss West. Other plays which she wrote include "Sex," which gained her much publicity when first presented; "The Wicked Age," "The Drag," "Pleasure Man" & "The Constant Sinner."

Mac Kaplus and Jack Small spent $35,000 on the new sets. Among the cast of 50 supporting Miss West in "Diamond Lil" are Charles G. Martin, Walter Petrie, Val Gould, James Courtney, Dan Matthews, Sheila Trent, Zolya Talma, Mike Keene and Louis Mussbaum.

During the limited run of "Diamond Lil" at the Biltmore Theatre performances will be given nightly, including Sundays, and Saturday matinees.

'CAST' INCOMPLETE FOR COURT DRAMA

The stage was set Saturday morning, most of the important members of the "cast" did not appear.

City Judge John C. Mead and Mrs. Eliese Rickman, court clerk, were in traffic court at 10 a. m., but that's as far as it went. There were no violators.

New Safeway Store Opens In Arcadia

When the big, new ultra-modern Safeway opened this morning at 1001 S. First avenue in Arcadia, a smiling crew of more than 35 Safeway men and women was on hand to greet the food buyers of this area. Safeway also will formally open a large new store in Azusa today, bringing the total to six that have been launched in Los Angeles County since the first of the year. These stores and several others to come have been under construction for several months.

Unique in grocery-store design, both new markets have no windows and are brightly lighted by the latest-type fluorescent fixtures and are completely air-conditioned throughout the entire year.

Both stores will have three or four times as much space as the old type Safeway stores in this area. The Arcadia store is 200 feet wide and 100 feet in depth. The stores are of modern design, reinforced concrete and masonry construction, topped with a 40-foot pylon sign tower.

Heading the Arcadia staff is Manager E. B. Hollinger, veteran Safeway store manager. Immediately prior to his going to the new Arcadia store, Mr. Hollinger was location manager at the Sierra Madre Safeway for the past year.
